The KWA Originals Brand of airsoft guns focuses on a dynamic new approach to airsoft combat sports. Much like KWA's release of the Ronin Series AEGs back in 2018, the KO Brand was devised to elevate airsoft as an industry and as a culture. KO is our pursuit to revitalize and reimagine what an airsoft gun is supposed to feel and look like while still paying homage and taking inspiration from classic weapon designs.

The next KWA guns to receive the special KO "polymerization"/treatment are the QRF Series, TK.45c and Ronin 47 AEGs. Each new KO release is a polymer port of their metal counterpart while shaving off almost a pound off from the original. These new KO releases feature the KO side charging handle and newly developed, high-strength polymer receiver body. Magazine compatibility will remain unchanged with each KO AEG able to accept their respective magazines from the original Ronins and QRF AEGs. Internally, the new KO line shares the same 2.5+ adjustable FPS gearbox as the TK.45c, Ronin T6, QRF Mod Series, Ronin 47.
